Course Description
An analysis of international poverty and inequality, dualistic development, the employment problem, mobilization of domestic resources, mobilization of foreign resources, human-resource development, agricultural strategy, industrialization strategy, trade strategy, development planning, and policy making.

Course Objectives
The central objective of the course is to introduce and familiarize students with some central themes and issues of economic development, research, and practices. Upon completion of the course students should be able to:
• Identify and describe current approaches to international development
• Analyze and critique development literature and other materials such as reports and videos published by development organization.

School of Business Learning Goals:
• Global and Civic Responsibility - Students identify and define social, ethical, environmental and economic challenges at local, national and international levels. Students integrate knowledge and skills in addressing these issues
• Implementation - Students are exposed to and analyze topics which are of import to global economic development. The topics include social, ethical, environmental and economic challenges at local, national and international levels.
• Demonstration of achievement: Each student will display an understanding of the social, ethical, environmental and economic challenges through the three exams given in the course.

Department Learning Outcomes
The Department of Economics evaluates this course and its contribution to student learning related to “synthesis” and “communication skills.”
• Synthesis refers to students demonstrating the ability to access existing knowledge by retrieving, assembling, and organizing information on particular topics and issues in economics. This will be assessed in the components of the research paper.
• Communication skills refer to students’ ability to clearly communicate the analysis of an economic issue. This outcome is assessed through your research paper and oral presentation.

Grades:
• Class Participation: Students will be required to participate in class discussion. It is difficult to participate in class discussion if you are not present during class. Attendance will be taken at every class period and will count towards (but is not the entire) participation grade.
  o Just showing up for class is not sufficient to get anything but a D- in this category!
• Reading quizzes and homework:
  - Quizzes consisting of short response to readings, articles, or videos will be given during class. These are pass/fail.
  - There are no make-up quizzes: The two lowest grades in this category will be dropped.
    - Quizzes will usually be given in the first ten minutes of class so it is important to be on time. If you are late to class and miss the quiz, it will be scored as a zero.
  - There will also be periodic homework assignments that deal with the topics being covered in the class. Each homework assignment is the equivalent of two quizzes. No homework assignments will be dropped.

• Exams: There will be two exams. The tentative date for the first exam is Wednesday Oct. 3 and for exam 2 is Friday Nov. 30

• Research Paper and Presentation: A research paper/literature review on a development topic. More details will be given later in the semester.
  - Proposal with Annotated Bibliography – Due Oct. 10
  - Final papers – Due Nov. 26
  - Research Presentation: Research presentations will be given the last day of class (Dec. 3) and during the final exam period. Our scheduled final exam period is Dec. 10 from 8:00 am – 11:00am. Attendance and attention during all presentations is required. Failure to attend will result in 50% deduction of the presentation grade.

• Final Grade Calculation: The final grade in this class will be calculated as follows:
  - Class Participation 10%
  - Reading Quizzes and Homework 15%
  - Exam 1 20%
  - Exam 2 20%
  - Research Paper and Presentation Overall 35%
    - Proposal with Annotated Bibliography 10%
    - Final Paper 15%
    - Research Presentation 10%

• Grade Scale:

• Any disagreement with the grade given in any quiz, homework, or exam can only be contested in a written form. Submit in writing (not email) both the question which you believe was unfairly graded along with economic reasoning for why your answer was correct. A written response will be given to you afterwards.
  o Under no circumstances will a grade be changed by email or any other means.
  o In addition, grades may not be discussed over email.

Attendance:
Attendance will be taken at every class meeting. It is important to highlight that every in-class quiz or assignment that you miss is automatically marked as a zero. More than six absences will lead to automatic failure of the course (WA). I strongly suggest you save these absences for illnesses and emergencies. Students arriving more than 10 minutes late will be counted absent.

If you miss class, you will need to obtain a copy of the notes from another student. The instructor will NOT provide copies of class notes.

Cell Phone Policy:
Please turn off cell phones and put them away as you enter class. While this is not a theatre, the same courtesies should be followed. It is distracting to your instructor as well as your neighbor when phones go off. If a student has their phone out during class, the student will be considered absent. If a cell phone rings (or vibrates audibly) during an exam that student will receive a 10% reduction for that exam.

Reasonable accommodation policy:
Any student in this course who has a disability that may prevent him or her from fully demonstrating his or her abilities should the Center for Disability Services/SNAP, located on the first floor of the Lightsey Center, Suite 104. Students approved for accommodations are responsibility for notifying me as soon as possible and for contacting me at least 48 hours before accommodation is needed.

Writing Lab
I encourage you to take advantage of the Writing Lab in the Center for Student Learning (Addlestone Library, first floor). Trained writing consultants can help with writing for all courses; they offer one-to-one consultations that address everything from brainstorming and developing ideas to crafting strong sentences and documenting sources. For more information, please call 843.953.5635 or visit http://csl.cofc.edu/labs/writing-lab/.
Honor Code:

Lying, cheating, attempted cheating, and plagiarism are violations of our Honor Code that, when identified, are investigated. Each incident will be examined to determine the degree of deception involved.

Incidents where the instructor determines the student’s actions are related more to a misunderstanding will be handled by the instructor. A written intervention designed to help prevent the student from repeating the error will be given to the student. The intervention, submitted by form and signed both by the instructor and the student, will be forwarded to the Dean of Students and placed in the student’s file.

Cases of suspected academic dishonesty will be reported directly by the instructor and/or others having knowledge of the incident to the Dean of Students. A student found responsible by the Honor Board for academic dishonesty will receive a XF in the course, indicating failure of the course due to academic dishonesty. The student may also be placed on disciplinary probation, suspended (temporary removal) or expelled (permanent removal) from the College by the Honor Board.

Students should be aware that unauthorized collaboration--working together without permission-- is a form of cheating. Unless the instructor specifies that students can work together on an assignment, quiz and/or test, no collaboration during the completion of the assignment is permitted. Other forms of cheating include possessing or using an unauthorized study aid (which could include accessing information via a cell phone or computer), copying from others’ exams, fabricating data, and giving unauthorized assistance.

Students can find the complete Honor Code and all related processes in the Student Handbook at http://studentaffairs.cofc.edu/honor-system/studenthandbook/index.php
