ECONOMICS 101 – INTRODUCTION TO ECONOMICS
SPRING 2020

PROFESSOR – DR. RICHARD A. BILAS

COURSE DESCRIPTION:
This course covers the history of the development of present-day economic society, as well as considers issues and problems facing the economy, including policies directed at affecting inflation, unemployment and recession, and international trade. Students who have completed ECON 200 or ECON 201 may not subsequently receive credit for ECON 101. However, students may receive credit for ECON 101 before taking ECON 200 and ECON 201.

Section 01: Meets Tu/Tr at 1:40 in Beatty Center -- 320

Office Hours: By appointment only at a time and place TBD.

The School of Business learning goals for this course are:

COMMUNICATION SKILLS: Students will demonstrate the ability to defend ideas in a cogent manner.

QUANTITATIVE FLUENCY: Students will demonstrate competency in logical reasoning.

GLOBAL AND CIVIC RESPONSIBILITY: Students will be able to identify and define social, ethical, environmental and economic challenges at local, national and international levels.

INTELLECTUAL INNOVATION AND CREATIVITY: Students will be able to demonstrate their resourcefulness addressing extemporaneous problems.

GENERAL EDUCATION STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOME: Students apply social science concepts, models, and theories to explain human behavior, social interactions, and social institutions. This learning outcome will be assessed in the final exam.
The following is a tentative course outline. It is dependent upon the ability of the class to grasp the material. Furthermore, there will be two exams and a take home exam. The take home exam will be given on Apr. 9 and due on Apr. 21.

GRADE SCALE AND GRADING:

100-93 = A
92-90 = A-
89-87 = B+
86-84 = B
83-80 = B-
79-77 = C+
76-74 = C
73-70 = C-
69-67 = D+
66-64 = D
63-60 = D-
Below 60 = F

Grading: Two exams approximately 50%
Final exam approximately 50%

Improvement over the course of the semester will help raise your grade. The opposite is also true; if your grade falls over the course of the semester, this will tend to lower your grade. Additionally, attendance will be taken on a random basis. Frequent absences will lower your grade. Finally, an extra credit question worth 10 points may be given with exam 2.

ABOUT THE PROFESSOR:

Dr. Bilas is a retired academician and bureaucrat. He spent twenty-five years as a university professor having taught at The University of Southern California, Georgia State University, The University of Colorado, California State University, Bakersfield, and The University of Oklahoma. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION OF IMPORTANCE:

1. YOU HAVE MY E-MAIL ADDRESS AND CELL PHONE NUMBER. CONTACT ME IF YOU HAVE QUESTIONS AND/OR NEED EXTRA HELP.

2. YOU ARE TO ABIDE BY THE HONOR CODE OF THE COLLEGE OF CHARLESTON. NOTE THE FOLLOWING:

Lying, cheating, attempted cheating, and plagiarism are violations of our Honor Code that, when identified, are investigated. Each incident will be examined to determine the degree of deception involved.

Incidents where the instructor determines the student’s actions are related more to a misunderstanding will handled by the instructor. A written intervention designed to help prevent the student from repeating the error will be given to the student. The intervention, submitted by form and signed both by the instructor and the student, will be forwarded to the Dean of Students and placed in the student’s file.
Cases of suspected academic dishonesty will be reported directly by the instructor and/or others having knowledge of the incident to the Dean of Students. A student found responsible by the Honor Board for academic dishonesty will receive a XF in the course, indicating failure of the course due to academic dishonesty. This grade will appear on the student’s transcript for two years after which the student may petition for the X to be expunged. The student may also be placed on disciplinary probation, suspended (temporary removal) or expelled (permanent removal) from the College by the Honor Board.

Students should be aware that unauthorized collaboration--working together without permission-- is a form of cheating. Unless the instructor specifies that students can work together on an assignment, quiz and/or test, no collaboration during the completion of the assignment is permitted. Other forms of cheating include possessing or using an unauthorized study aid (which could include accessing information via a cell phone or computer), copying from others’ exams, fabricating data, and giving unauthorized assistance.

Research conducted and/or papers written for other classes cannot be used in whole or in part for any assignment in this class without obtaining prior permission from the instructor.

Students can find the complete Honor Code and all related processes in the Student Handbook at http://deanofstudents.cofc.edu/honor-system/studenthandbook/

3. SNAP STUDENTS ARE TO SEE THE INSTRUCTOR AFTER THE FIRST CLASS.

Students approved for SNAP Services are instructed to meet with each of their professors during the first two weeks of classes or as soon as they are approved for services to discuss accommodations and present a copy of their SNAP-issued Professor Notification Letter (PNL). Though it is the student’s responsibility to initiate discussion regarding accommodations that may be needed, an announcement on your syllabus or in class encouraging them to do so would be helpful. Students will feel more comfortable about identifying themselves as having a disability if they are approaching someone they believe to be receptive to the discussion. Such an invitation can go a long way toward encouraging students with a disability to approach the instructor early in the course.

Any student eligible for and needing accommodations because of a disability is requested to speak with me after class or see

Center for Student Learning: I encourage you to utilize the Center for Student Learning’s (CSL) academic support services for assistance in study strategies and course content. They offer tutoring, Supplemental Instruction, study skills appointments, and workshops. Students of all abilities have become more successful using these programs throughout their academic career and they are available to you at no additional cost. For more information regarding these services please visit the CSL website at http://csl.cofc.edu or call (843)953-5635.

4. HOW TO SUCCEED IN THIS COURSE:

Class lectures are important, but so is the textbook. Your success will depend greatly on your reading the assigned materials, listening to class lectures, and asking questions in class or privately to the professor. You cannot read Economics like you might read a novel. You must read slowly and digest every word. Do not be afraid to ask questions in class. A significant part of learning is accomplished by asking.
