PAUL ASPER, MBA
Division Vice President, DaVita

That Which Matters Most: Musings on the Healthcare Industry, Leadership, and Life
9:30AM | FRIDAY, OCT. 28, 2016 | TATE 207

Paul A. Asper is Division Vice President at DaVita, where he has complete accountability for a multi-site, $140 million P&L across South Carolina and Georgia. In this role, he leads a 700+ person team and is responsible for partnering with hospitals and physicians to provide integrated, exemplary care to thousands of patients with chronic kidney disease.

Before assuming his current role, Paul was a Regional Operations Director at DaVita, where he led a 230+ person team and had complete accountability for a multi-site, $53 million P&L across Colorado, Nebraska, and Wyoming. Prior to that role, Paul was Director of Clinical Strategy and Special Projects at DaVita. In that role, he supported DaVita’s Chief Medical Officer and clinical leadership team in developing multi-year, clinical goals and objectives, and in designing & scaling major clinical initiatives across 2,000+ outpatient dialysis facilities. Paul joined DaVita first as a Redwoods Summer Associate during graduate school and then later as a Redwoods Resident in DaVita’s Leadership Development Program.

Prior to DaVita, Paul was an Associate at Nashville Capital Network, a $5.2 million angel investment fund, where he was responsible for performing due diligence on new deal opportunities, and for mentoring entrepreneurs on the capital raising process. Prior to Nashville Capital Network, Paul was Senior Financial Analyst for Spheris, a $200 million provider of healthcare technology and services. In this seminar, Asper will discuss the healthcare industry, job market, and advice on leadership.
